The particulars that give rise to his individual criminal responsibility are set forth in paragraphs 10 through 26 of this indictment.

10. Between an unknown date in early 1992 and 17 July 1994, Bernard Munyagishari, with other influential and powerful persons, including Colonel Anatole Nsengiyumva, Joseph Nzirorera, Augustin Ngirabatware nicknamed Mbiyo Mbiyo, Major Uwimana François-Xavier, Captain Bizimuremyi, Barnabe Samvura, Thomas Mugiraneza, BIO-1, Thomas Issa, Hassan Sibomana, Hassan Ngeze, Hassan Gitoki, Zainabou, and others, agreed to kill or cause serious bodily or mental harm to members of the Tutsi population with the intent to destroy, in whole or in part, the Tutsi ethnic group, as described in paragraphs 11 through 26 of this indictment.

11. After the multi party political system was adopted in Rwanda in 1991, Bernard Munyagishari, in his capacity of Secretary General of the MRND for Gisenyi city, recruited many young people to the youth wing of the MRND known as the Interahamwe. These persons were almost exclusively of Hutu ethnic origin. The role of the Interahamwe in Gisenyi was to create disorder in the opposition political rallies and to attack and kill the Tutsis and the Hutu opponents of ethnic division who were accused of being accomplices of the Inkotanyi, the Rwandan Patriotic Front combatants ("the RPF").

At the end of the training, he was awarded a red belt of the army however he never became an official member of the Rwandan Armed Forces. However Bernard Munyagishari was often armed and sometimes wore a military uniform.

14. During the period from 1992 and up until the death of President Juvenal Habyarimana on 6 April 1994, in furtherance of the agreement described herein, Bernard Munyagishari trained the Interahamwe militia and/or supervised such training that took place in the military camps and in neighbouring forests, notably in the camps of Bigogwe, Gabiro and Gako. The training enabled the Interahamwe more efficiently to attack and kill the Tutsis and the Hutu opponents with the weapons they were given by the soldiers.

15. On an unknown date in 1992, Bernard Munyagishari, Mbanzi Wellars, President of the Interahamwe for Rubavu commune, Gisenyi prefecture, and others, agreed to organize demonstrations in Gisenyi to set up road blocks throughout the city, in order to stop cars and to check the national identity cards of those people stopped to identify Tutsis and Hutu Opponents and to prevent them from escaping and to kill them.

18. On or about 5 January 1994, in furtherance of the agreement described herein, Interahamwe led by Bernard Munyagishari began spreading false rumours in Gisenyi that the Tutsi had put poison in the water so that those who would drink that water, namely the Hutus, died. This was done with the intention of causing tensions among the population so that the population would see the Tutsis as the enemy. As a result, the Interahamwe threatened to kill the Tutsi.

19. On or about 10 January 1994, an Interahamwe leader informed UNAMIR (United Nations Assistance Mission for Rwanda) in Kigali that the MRND leaders and members of the Interahamwe cells had prepared lists of Tutsi to be eliminated. For example in March 1994, Bernard Munyagishari gathered his Interahamwe to look for prominent Tutsi and moderate Hutus who were sympathetic to the RPF to be arrested and imprisoned at the gendarmerie prison. There were Interahamwe who were assigned to search Tutsi houses by day, and those who were assigned to search Tutsis' houses by night. Bernard Munyagishari himself ordered his Interahamwe to some precise houses where Tutsi families were living. Some of the Tutsi captured were killed by the Interahamwe.

Around March 1994, as the Rwanda Government was negotiating with the RPF the implementation of the Arusha Accords, Bernard Munyagishari organized at several occasions in Gisenyi, violent protests against the Arusha Accords and masterminded a virulent hate campaign against the Tutsis in furtherance of the agreements described herein. Bernard Munyagishari and his Interahamwe mounted roadblocks in Gisenyi to show their disapproval and anger in relation to the ongoing negotiations in Arusha. They arrested Tutsis at the roadblocks and assaulted them. During the demonstrations, Bernard Munyagishari and his Interahamwe also looted and destroyed some Tutsi homes and properties.

21. On or about 7 April 1994, in order to organize the commencement of the extermination plan against the Tutsis, Colonel Antole Nsengiyumva convened a meeting of political leaders, local authorities and Interahamwe at the military camp in Gisenyi. Among those present at the meeting were Bernard Munyagishari, Barnabe Samvura, chairman of the CDR for Rubavu commune, and Thomas Mugiraneza, Vice-President of the Interahamwe for Gisenyi prefecture. The participants, including Bernard Munyagishari, discussed details of the plan to exterminate the Tutsis and agreed during the course of the meeting to distribute weapons to be used to exterminate the Tutsis.

22. At the end of the meeting held on or about 7 April 1994, in furtherance of the agreement described herein, Colonel Anatole Nsengiyumva ordered Captain Bizuremuye, Commander of the mobile brigade of Gisenyi, to distribute weapons and ammunition to the Interahamwe leaders who were present. The weapons, including grenades and rifles, were in turn distributed to the Interahamwe who immediately commenced attacks on Tutsis. Bernard Munyagishari agreed with others to participate in the distribution of weapons to the Interahamwe knowing that such weapons would be used in carrying out attacks on Tutsis.

23. On an unknown date in April 1994, Bernard Munyagishari attended a meeting at the stadium in Gisenyi, convened by Colonel Anatole Nsengiyumva. During the meeting, the participants discussed whether or not the killings of Tutsis should be stopped. Bernard Munyagishari agreed with Colonel Anatole Nsengiyumva and others not to stop the killings in Gisenyi. Bernard Munyagishari and the Interahamwe attending the meeting endorsed their approval of Colonel Anatole Nsengiyumva who said to the killers that he did not agree with the first two speakers who had called for the end of the massacres. Colonel Anatole Nsengiyumva congratulated the Interahamwe for what he called “good work” and encouraged them to continue the “work”. In that context, “work” meant killing the Tutsis. Bernard Munyagishari agreed with Colonel Anatole Nsengiyumva and others that the killing of Tutsis should continue and after the meeting the killing of the Tutsis became more and more intense in Gisenyi.

24. On or about 13 April 1994, after roadblocks had been set up by the Interahamwe in Gisenyi prefecture, Bernard Munyagishari convened a meeting of Interahamwe leaders. The meeting was convened to organize the massacres more efficiently and reduce the chances of any Tutsi escaping the ongoing slaughter. The Interahamwe leaders present at the meeting were under the leadership of Bernard Munyagishari. The participants at the meeting including Bernard Munyagishari agreed to organize the massacres of the Tutsis more efficiently and therefore not to allow single Tutsi to escape through the roadblocks.

25. From 7 April 1994 through 17 July 1994, in furtherance of the agreement described herein, Bernard Munyagishari supervised the roadblocks in the city of Gisenyi and its environs. He was present at many roadblocks including the one leading to Bralirwa Company in Gisenyi, instigating the Interahamwe and other civilians to kill the Tutsis. During the same period, the Interahamwe led by Bernard Munyagishari killed many Tutsis at roadblocks in Gisenyi.

26. On an unknown date in May 1994, Bernard Munyagishari convened a meeting in the stadium of Gisenyi. He agreed with the other participants that no Tutsi be allowed in the meeting. Bernard Munyagishari further agreed with the other participants to define the enemy of the Hutus. He said during his speech that the time had come to know who was their real enemy and called the participants to deal with this enemy quickly and without mercy. For Bernard Munyagishari and the participants at the meeting, it was clear that the enemy was the Tutsi. Immediately after the meeting, the Interahamwe started going from house to house searching for Tutsi and killed them. There were some Interahamwe who would search the Tutsis’ houses by day and others who would search by night.
