On 12 March 2008, the Pre-Trial Chamber II ("Chamber") issued the Decision on the Prosecutor's Urgent Application Dated 10 March 2008 ("Decision") authorising the Office of the Prosecutor ("OTP"), in cooperation with the Registry, on a confidential basis, to inform representatives of those States, intergovernmental organisations and regional forces essential for the execution of the arrest of the persons sought that both the Warrants of Arrest and the corresponding Requests for Arrest and Surrender have been transmitted to the Central African Republic ("CAR").¹

The Chamber also requested the Prosecutor to subsequently inform the Chamber of the authorities informed pursuant to the Decision. The Prosecutor respectfully provides the following information.

Authorities Informed by the Office of the Prosecutor

On 12 March, the OTP travelled to Uganda to gather information on the death of Vincent Otti and to inform the Government of Uganda of the transmission of the Warrants of Arrest to CAR.

Between 31 March and 3 April, the OTP travelled to the Central African Republic to liaise with the CAR national authorities and inform the relevant international organisations, diplomatic missions and regional forces.

During the OTP mission, the diplomatic missions of France, the United States and the European Union were informed of the transmission of the Warrants of Arrests to the CAR. The United Nations Peace Building Support Office for the Central African Republic ("BONUCA") and United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) were also informed. The OTP mission also informed the Chief of Staff of the Multinational Force in the Central African Republic ("FOMUC") as well as the Economic and Monetary Community of Central Africa ("CEMAC"), the political body under which the FOMUC force of 500 soldiers was established.

In addition, the OTP met with several members of the CAR national government including the Chef d'État-Major des Armées and the Deputy Minister of Defence to get an update on the situation. Both confirmed to the OTP, that the LRA had been and may continue to remain in the territory of the CAR and that the LRA committed several attacks on localities within the Haut Mbomou, District of the CAR in the south-east abducting many CAR civilians. They stated that this area of the CAR is extremely remote and difficult to access. Despite the difficulties, they informed the OTP that they had sent a small force to the area to assess the situation and if the LRA and those named in the Warrants of Arrest are still on the CAR territory, that appropriate action would be taken including making requests to the relevant authorities for assistance.

Information Regarding the Recent Movements and Activities of the LRA

The movement of the LRA to the CAR during the month of February has been confirmed to the OTP by CAR authorities as well as Ugandan, Sudanese and UN sources. However, information now indicates that the majority of the LRA returned to their bases in Garamba National Park, Democratic Republic of the Congo ("DRC"), during the last half of March.² It has been reported from sources, including recently abducted persons who escaped from the LRA, that the LRA has abducted over 300 civilians from the Sudan, CAR and DRC since February and that these civilians are being subjected to military training.³

According to information currently available to the OTP, international support for the Juba Peace Talks continues to hinder efforts to galvanise support for arrest. This is particularly the case when there are reports that those facilitating the talks, such as the UN Special Envoy for Areas Affected by the LRA, state explicitly that the ICC is making peace talks more difficult.⁴

Beyond the recent reports of abductions and military training, on 10 April, the LRA leader Joseph Kony failed to attend the meeting in Ri-Kwangba, Sudan, where he was scheduled to sign the final peace agreement.⁵ There have also been reports of further internal LRA fighting. On 14 April, reports emerged that the now deputy of the LRA, Okot Odhiambo, had been killed in an internal LRA feud.⁶ Although the OTP cannot confirm these reports at this time, information has been received which indicates that Odhiambo is still alive. The OTP will continue to gather additional information on this as well as the status of the other persons wanted for arrest and will continue to inform the Chamber in due course.
